Vamos a Leer (Spanish Literacy)

Vamos a Leer is a Cell-Ed program that provides speakers of Spanish the opportunity to learn to read and write in Spanish. Cell-Ed's Vamos a Leer offers original content, based on the proven approach and trusted methodology of Mexico's INEA, in teaching adults how to read and write Spanish. Participants learn to recognize letters and sounds, then progress to form syllables and after, complete words. Learners use this knowledge to quickly read and write complete sentences. On average, learners advance two grade levels in reading ability in as little as three months. Vamos a Leer offers self-paced, engaging lessons with real-world scenarios and sentences.

Advanced Skillbuilder 1

A course for English speakers starting at a 4th or 5th grade reading level, Advanced SkillBuilder: Reading offers learners a chance to learn tangible strategies to improve reading comprehension skills while sharpening critical thinking skills. Throughout the course, learners use different strategies of reading, such as skimming and scanning, to fit a wide variety of reading materials, including instructions, warranties, leases, ads, brochures, and articles. This self-guided course allows learners to work at their own pace, while also providing audio support from teachers. The overall objective is to propel learners to read at a secondary school reading level upon course completion.

Competencies for this course are based on CASAS.

Unit 1: Finding Information

- Locate key words in information questions
- Skim texts to determine the general meaning or subject matter of simple texts
- Scan texts to find details and facts in simple texts
- Interpret simple instructions about everyday situations

Advanced Skillbuilder 2

A course for English speakers starting at a 6th or 7th grade reading level, Advanced SkillBuilder: Reading 2 offers learners a chance to learn tangible strategies to improve reading comprehension skills while sharpening critical thinking skills. Throughout the course, learners use different strategies of reading, such as skimming and scanning, to fit a wide variety of reading materials, including instructions, warranties, leases, ads, brochures, and articles. This self-guided course allows learners to work at their own pace, while also providing audio support from teachers. The overall objective is to propel learners to read at a secondary school reading level upon course completion.

Competencies for this course are based on CASAS.

Unit 1: Finding and Using Information

- Interpret information from increasingly complex forms, ads, and manuals
- Compare details from different parts of an increasingly complex text
- Locate key words in a variety of information questions
- Skim texts to determine the general meaning or subject matter of increasingly complex narratives
- Scan texts to find details and facts in increasingly complex narratives

Advanced Skillbuilder 3

- Division

Advanced Skillbuilder Math 1

Advanced Skillbuilder Math 2

Advanced Skillbuilder Math 3

Advanced Skillbuilder Charts, Graphs and Tables 1

Advanced Skillbuilder Charts, Graphs and Tables 2

Skillbuilder Math: Addition and Subtraction

Skillbuilder Math helps adult learners use everyday situations to strengthen their abilities in basic operations of addition and subtraction, multiplication, and division. Practice begins with single-digit addition and subtraction and continues to double- and triple-digit operations, including carrying and borrowing.

- This course is in English and is suitable for English speakers or English Language Learners with strong listening ability.
- Competencies for this course are based on CASAS.
- Each unit is a collection of short lessons that are 3 minutes or fewer.

Unit 1: Learn How

Interact with worked examples of single-digit addition and subtraction problems and double- and triple-digit addition and subtraction problems using carrying and borrowing.

Unit 2: Show You Know

Practice unit to solve real-world math situations using addition and subtraction with less support.

Skillbuilder Math: Multiplication

Skillbuilder Math helps adult learners use everyday situations to strengthen their abilities in basic operations of addition and subtraction, multiplication, and division. This course covers times tables and multiplying numbers by 10.

- This course is in English and is suitable for English speakers or English Language Learners with strong listening ability.
- Competencies for this course are based on CASAS.
- Each unit is a collection of short lessons that are 3 minutes or fewer.

Unit 1: Learn How

Interact with worked examples of single- and double-digit multiplication problems using regrouping. Review of multiplication facts 1-9 are provided, as well as to mentally solve problems $\times 10$ or $\times 100$.

Unit 2: Show You Know

Practice unit to solve real-world math situations with single and double-digit multiplication, using regrouping with less support.

Skillbuilder Math: Division

Skillbuilder Math helps adult learners use everyday situations to strengthen their abilities in basic operations of addition and subtraction, multiplication, and division. This course covers dividing numbers by 10.

- This course is in English and is suitable for English speakers or English Language Learners with strong listening ability.
- Competencies for this course are based on CASAS.
- Each unit is a collection of short lessons that are 3 minutes or fewer.

Unit 1: Learn How

Interact with worked examples of single- and double-digit division problems problems using the inverse relationship of multiplication. Review of division problems 1-9 are provided, as well as strategies to estimate.

Unit 2: Show You Know

Practice unit to solve real-world math situations with single and double-digit division, using estimation, with less support.

Advanced Skillbuilder Math 1

Advanced SkillBuilder: Math offers learners a chance to enhance reading skills while sharpening math reasoning. In this course, learners work with numbers found in visual data, such as charts, graphs, forms, and ads commonly used at workplaces and in daily life.

In each exercise, learners read a text, or interpret and gather numbers from visual data, determine which math operation to use, then find a solution using addition, subtraction, multiplication, and/or percents. This self-guided course allows learners to work at their own pace, while also providing audio support from teachers. Upon completion of this course, learners will be able to interpret and solve problems using multiple operations.

- This course is in English and is suitable for English speakers or English Language Learners with strong listening and reading ability.
- Competencies for this course are based on CASAS.

Unit 1: Addition and Subtraction

- Interpret and use information from simple and complex forms, charts, tables and graphs
- Use context to determine the correct math operation
- Apply double-and triple-digit addition and subtraction using carrying and borrowing to solve real-world math situations
- Apply double-digit multiplication and division to solve real-world math situations

Advanced Skillbuilder Math 2

- Interpret and use information from simple and complex forms, charts, tables and graphs
- Use context to determine the correct math operation
- Apply addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division to solve real-world math situations
- Convert percents to their decimal equivalent to solve problems
- Calculate a percentage using everyday contexts

Advanced Skillbuilder Charts, Graphs, and Tables 1

A course for English speakers at a 4th grade reading level and up, Advanced SkillBuilder: Charts, Graphs, and Tables offers learners a chance to learn and practice key strategies to read charts, graphs, tables, forms, and ads commonly used at workplaces and in daily life more quickly and easily. This self-guided course allows learners to work at their own pace, while also providing audio support from teachers. Upon completion of this course, learners will be able to find a piece of information and answer a question.

- This course is in English and is suitable for English speakers or English Language Learners with strong listening and reading ability.
- Competencies for this course are based on CASAS.

Unit 1: Locating a Piece of Information

- Locate key words in information questions
- Recognize different types of text features used in charts, graphs, and labels
- Locate information in a variety of formatted documents

Advanced Charts, Graphs, and Tables

2

Upon completion of this course, learners will be able to find multiple pieces of information and put the information together to answer questions.
